A PERSONAL DREAM

Delfin Amazon Cruises was launched in early 2006 by its founder and CEO, Aldo Macchiavello. The company is the culmination of a dream shared with his wife Lissy Urteaga: run a boutique travel business for sophisticated travelers in their amazing country, Peru.

ALDO & LISSY are fully dedicated to personally running the business armed with extensive international travel experience and a taste for casual yet refined travel. Aldo, a graduate of Purdue University's Krannert Graduate School of Management and with 25 years in the banking sector, has in-depth knowledge of Peru and a passion for tourism. He brings to the business a unique combination of professionalism and vision. Lissy is blessed with unlimited creativity, imagination for details and a natural ability to make guests feel at home. With a background in art and interior design, she adds just the right combination of exclusivity and charm.

THE AMAZON

rainforest is named after the Amazon River, the life force of the jungle. It is a unique ecosystem that harbors 1/3 of all living species in the world! The total extent of this incomparable tropical jungle is estimated in comparison to the complete land area of the United States. 28 billion gallons of its waters flow into the Atlantic every minute, diluting the salinity of the ocean for more than 100 miles offshore. The Amazon watershed is home to the world's highest biodiversity, with more species of plants and animals than any other terrestrial ecosystem on the planet. Its range is so astounding that scientists continue to regularly discover new species of flora and fauna.

THE PACAYA SAMIRIA

National Reserve is the second largest national reserve in Peru, spanning more than 5 million acres. Known also as the mirror forest, it is the largest protected flooded forest in the world, making it one of the prime intact swaths of rainforest in the Peruvian Amazon. During the rainy season in the Andes, the water level rises, flooding 85% of the reserve and making it only accessible by boat. It is like no other protected area in Peru and its directly linked to the economic well-being of a large native resident population. At least 100,000 Ribereños - people living along its riverbanks - rely on its aquatic and terrestrial resources for food and income.

Our vessels thrive in splendid harmony with nature and its spectacular surroundings, and our guests appreciate the “noncruise” atmosphere and the sense that you are on board to explore one of the world’s most intriguing environments.

We set the highest standards for impeccable service, unique style and superb cuisine. Our vessels take you one step beyond luxury, where comfort and grace combine effortlessly with the wilderness of the Amazon in a setting of understated elegance and world-class hospitality.

THE DELFIN I

Of course, not all time is spent onboard. On the Delfin I, guests can get out on the water with the kayaks and our new stand up paddleboards.

Is key in the Amazon Jungle, the largest track of tropics in the Americas and the world. 1/3 of all species recorded in the world are found in the Amazon Basin. One in five birds on earth lives in this extraordinary habitat. The largest collection of living plants and animal species will be find here and is estimated that many thousand of species are yet to be discovered. Among the most mysterious are the pink and grey river dolphins that will be found in many tributaries and lakes.

COMMUNITIES

The people in the Amazon have lived in the rainforest for thousands of years and their lifestyles and cultures are well adapted to and integrated with this rich environment.

Contrary to popular belief, their daily living does not significantly harm their home environment.
